

Almost nine out of 10 people hold “fundamental biases” against women, a new UN report has found, decrying a “decade of stagnation” that has led to a dismantling of women’s rights in many parts of the world.

Are you a woman looking to bring value to a boardroom?

Women are 50% of the population, yet are only 20% of board members in corporate boardrooms- the most powerful rooms in business, where decisions are made.

C-Sweet is partnering with The ACE Online Board Certification Course, a virtual program which gives you the key elements you need to get on paid corporate boards.

ACE Consulting is offering our C-Sweet community a one – time bonus discount of up to $1000 off registration for the next online board certification program!

Available now with code ACESUMMER2023

Discount ends July 14.

(Full price is $4995!)

The ACE Board Certification program provides a holistic personal and professional overview. You learn to articulate your value proposition, write your board resume, and highlight your board qualifications. You'll discover how to identify and find a paying corporate board position. You gain self-confidence in representing your value to a board, as well as a broader view of participation responsibilities. You'll complete the course with insights into board governance, responsibilities, and operations, as well as a high-level view into corporate finance to spot red flags.

There was much I learned! While it may seem minor, one of my best take-aways was making sure that your board has D&O insurance... leading me to champion and put this critical piece in place for one of my new corporate board positions.

We appreciate our partnership and highly recommend Michele Ashby and the ACE Board Certification program to our C-Sweet community!
