Ready to join C-Sweet?

Ask your company to reimburse your membership.

Many corporations invest in employee development either through internal programs or external resources- sometimes both!

If you're not sure that your employer would reimburse you for your C-Sweet membership, check in with your direct supervisor or HR department.

Sometimes doing a little digging and then outlining the educational, networking and coaching benefits of C-Sweet easily make the case.

If you'd like more ideas, resources or assistance with requesting for reimbursement, please email csweetexecs@csweet.org.

We're here for you!
